The soft, voluminous linen plain quality bears the Persian name for „desert“ and can be used both as a heavy upholstery fabric and as a soft flowing curtain fabric. The linen-cotton chenille yarn used in the weft gives the fabric an elegant, velvety look with a grainy, dry touch.

ALESSANDRO BINI

It was 1974 when Alessandro, the owner of the company, began working. He was a student who was fascinated by the world of textiles in the family business, which he later transformed into the far-sighted vision for the exclusive promotion and development of Made in Italy.

Since then, the passion for high quality fabrics became a great passion that pushed him to further his knowledge and develop specific skills in the sector.

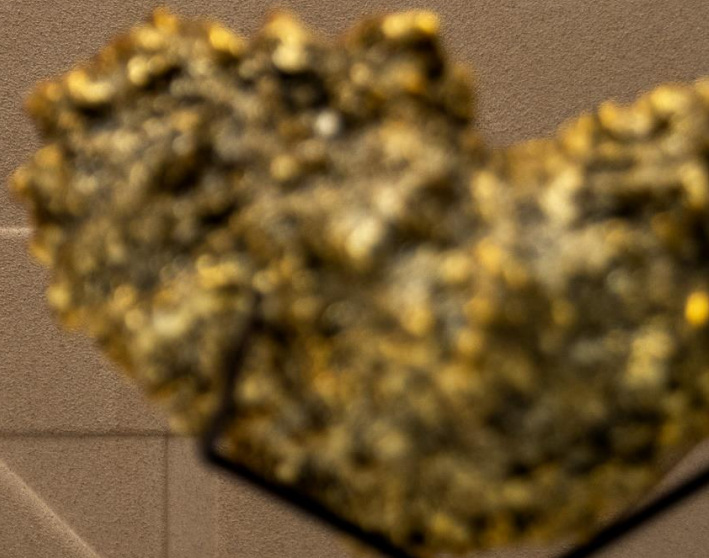

It took years to understand, appreciate and master textile fibres, their weaves and finishes: since then, Alessandro has dedicated himself, with constant commitment and great enthusiasm, to experimenting with materials and creating ever more beautiful and innovative fabrics.

ARTE

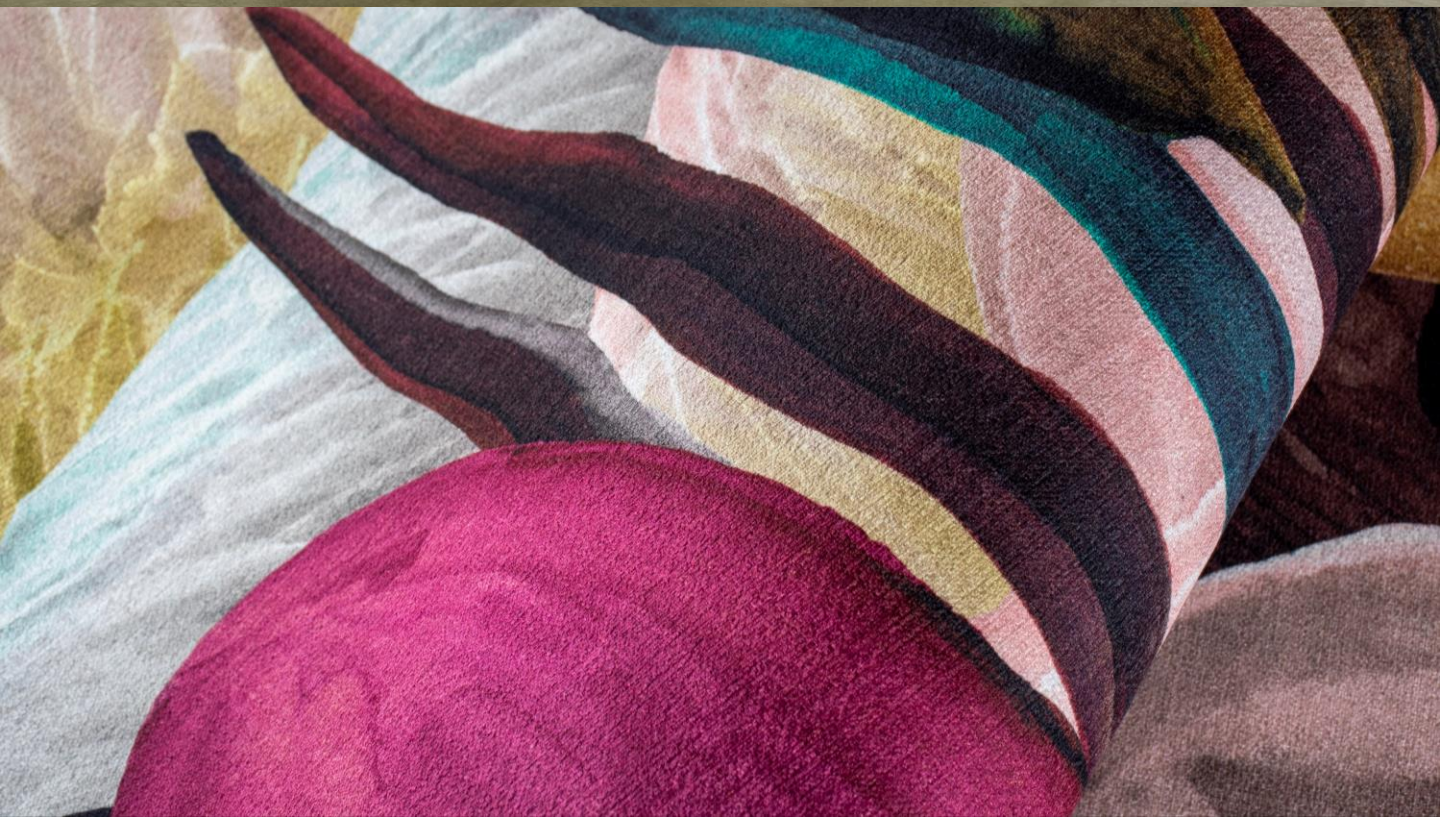

By using different patterns and decorative colours, a leather wall becomes an object of art. Stylish, exclusive and absolutely distinctive, this is the concept of Les Cuirs.

When producing the 3D collections, we use an innovative technique: thermoforming. By means of heat, a form is pressed into a material that remains visible after it cools off.

Each panoramic or decor immerses you in a fairy-tale or intriguing story. Not only the pattern appeals to the imagination, the material used is also surprising. From velvety soft silk looks and bouclé fabrics to sophisticated linen effects.
